

M-S JUNIOR HIGH CROSS-COUNTRY

8th-grade boys win invitational

8th-grade girls' team takes 4th

By ISAAC TROTTER
For the Mahomet Citizen

The eighth-grade girls' cross-country team finished fourth at the Monticello Invitational last Saturday at Lodge Park. Ella Scott finished 11th, Durbin Thomas was 14th and Abby Bunting was 19th.

Thanks to a big-time performance from Gabe Difanis, the eighth-grade boys' cross-country team finished first. Difanis finished second individually, while Gage Williams was fourth and Hayden Grotelueschen was 10th. Mitchell McAnally was 19th.

In the open division, the Bulldogs excelled yet again. Ava Boyd and Finn Randolph took top honors in their races, and M-S' girls took four of the top 10 spots while the boys had six of the top 10 finishers.

Ava Jansen, Callie Jansen and Emmaline Culp all had strong performances on the girls' side. On the boys' side, Randolph's championship speaks for itself, but Ty Clark finished second, Kai Jones was third and Camden Heinold was fourth. Isaac Warren (6th), Mason Orton (10th), Lukas Nykaza (11th), Blake Dillman (14th) and Davin Tietz (20th) were also standouts.

Provided

The Mahomet-Seymour eighth-grade boys' cross-country team finished first in last weekend's Monticello Invitational. Pictured, front row, from left: Eli Stelle, Mitchell McAnally, Hayden Grotelueschen and Corbin Six; and back row, from left: Gage Williams, Gabe Difanis and Ben Wallace.